

Published on behalf of the

Volume 1, Issue 3
NOW ONLINE!

Global Affairs

Global Affairs

Including cutting-edge research on the Islamic State, onshore solutions to prevent piracy, Sino-Japanese relations and more, this issue is not one to miss.

Within the issue, Global Affairs has published a special Forum on the European Union and armed drones, featuring the following articles:

- The European Union and armed drones: framing the debate
- Killing by metadata: Europe and the surveillance-targeted killing nexus
- Why and how the EU should act on armed drones
- The risks of remaining silent: international law formation and the EU silence on drone killings
- A common European position on armed drones? Charting EU member states' views on questions of counterterrorism uses of force
- Drone warfare and morality in riskless war
- The EU and armed drones – epilogue

Read the Forum for FREE by visiting:
bit.ly/globalaffairs1-3

Editors

Knud Erik Jørgensen, Aarhus University

Sven Biscop, EGMONT The Royal Institute for International Relations

Associate Editors

Mika Aaltola, The Finnish Institute of International Affairs

Senem Aydin Düzgit, Istanbul Bigli University

Johan Eriksson, The Swedish Institute of International Affairs

Roderick Parkes, The Swedish Institute of International Affairs

Louise van Schaik, Clingendael Institute in The Hague